LEGAL TRANSLATIONS

In addition to their linguistic skills, our legal translators have a thorough knowledge of the French legal system and of legal systems in other countries (specialist translators, lawyer-translators, court-certified translators). Our translations are ready for immediate use by legal professionals.

Summons · Submissions · Statements of case · Expert reports · Minutes · Court rulings · Arbitral awards · Deeds and instruments · Birth, death and marriage certificates.

Contracts and Agreements · Articles of Association · Terms and Conditions of Business · Shareholders' Agreements · EULAs, etc.

BUSINESS, TECHNICAL SALES, MARKETING & ADVERTISING TRANSLATIONS

Whatever your area of business, be it wall panels, shoes, screws or cosmetics, make sure you entrust your translations to specialists who are familiar with your products and processes and who speak the same language as you do, so that you get your message across to your target customers as effectively as possible.

Product brochures · Market research · Press packs · Sales presentations.

Business letters · Quotes · Invoices, etc.

SCIENTIFIC AND TECHNICAL TRANSLATIONS

Who better than an engineer-translator or a translator specialising in your particular field to translate your technical documents? Nextrad is able to provide the requisite combination of linguistic skills and scientific rigour.

Patents · Opposition cases · Tenders · Specifications · User guides and assembly instructions · Quality manuals · Product information sheets.

Medical translations · Scientific papers · Insurance reports, etc.

EDITORIAL TRANSLATIONS

These too call for accuracy and a rigorous approach to terminology, but the quality of the copywriting is the differentiating factor. At Nextrad, we understand the specifics of your publications and pay particularly careful attention to the style of writing adopted.

Corporate and official documents · Company magazines · In-house newspapers · Websites · Newsletters · Tourist guides and brochures, etc.
